Itinerary:

WED 29TH JULY 2020

Our adventure begins in our nation's capital where you will be picked up from Canberra International Airport at midday. From here you will be driven to Jindabyne where we will check in to our accommodation and will be given a tour of Jindabyne including surveying the lake and points of interest for the next day. On the first night we will cover the theory for the coming days as well as get an early night ready for the adventure that awaits!

THU 30TH JULY 2020

Having acclimatised to our new altitude we will do two dives the following morning exploring Lake Jindabyne before lunch to complete your altitude specialty. After lunch we will then retire to our accommodation for the evening to warm up and dry our thermals, hoods and gloves ready for another day of cold water diving. We will also complete the ice diving theory ready for the day ahead!

FRI 31ST JULY 2020

We will head into Kosciuszko National Park where we will do the 3 dives to complete your PADI Ice diving certification. You will have the opportunity to dive as well as play the roles of rescue diver and surface/line tender.

SAT 1ST AUGUST 2020

The group will be driven back to Canberra by midday so that you can catch your plane back home. Alternatively if you chose to fly out the following morning, I will be more than happy to drive you to your hotel for the evening.
